

LOYOLA INTERNATIONAL SCHOOL

IGNITED MINDS

Welcome to a Promising new Term

The start of Term 2 brought with it fresh energy, eager minds, and the spark of possibilities waiting to unfold.

After a restful summer, September stood as a month of renewal and rediscovery.

From the innovation of Reflections to the joy of Teachers' Day, from awareness campaigns to the laughter of our youngest athletes, Loyola once again found its rhythm.

Welcome to this edition of Ignited Minds - a celebration of beginnings, belonging, and the beautiful momentum of learning.

The Mega Highlight of the Month

REFLECTIONS : Our Annual STEAM Exhibition 2025

There are days in school that feel ordinary – and then there are days like Reflections. The campuses glowed with colour, conversation, and curiosity as every classroom turned into a space where ideas found their voice. From robots that moved to art that spoke, from live music to mathematical magic, it was a festival of imagination stitched together by teamwork and heart. Parents, guests, and teachers watched with pride as students took charge – explaining, experimenting, and shining brighter than ever. Reflections 2025 was not just seen; it was felt – in every laugh, every spark, every “aha” moment.

What some of the parents had to say -

When I look around, the energy that I see in students is infectious. Kids have done a great job. The efforts that these students have put to make Reflections successful - it can only be experienced.

This program was one with knowledge everywhere. What I enjoyed the most was - it was very interactive. I also engaged in the experiments and learnt new things. I was impressed with how the students communicated and explained their projects.

It is really good to see the school organising such events to engage and encourage our students to understand and solve problems of the world. The future looks bright and beautiful.

All about our School's Backbone - Our Teachers

September began with gratitude for those who turn classrooms into places of magic –
Our Teachers!

Before the new term began, our teachers became learners themselves, taking part in a week-long Teachers' Enrichment Program. From workshops on differentiated learning to powerful sessions and all about growing, reflecting, and reimagining how teaching can touch hearts and minds. The Teacher Well-being Session, guided by our counsellors, brought calm, laughter, and a much-needed pause.

Teachers' Day overflowed with music, surprises, and joy. Students poured their hearts into performances and gestures of thanks, while our senior students stepped into their mentors' shoes for a day, learning first hand that teaching is not just about lessons, but love.

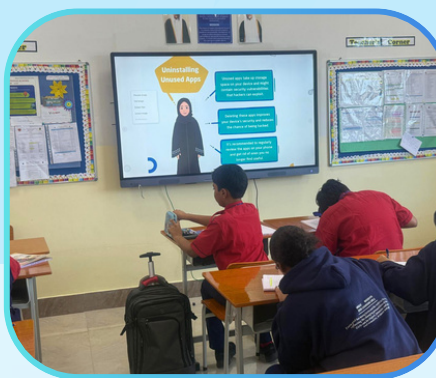

Holistic Development

Two campaigns, one message - to protect what matters.

This September, Loyola stood together for safety in all its forms: online, where every click counts, and in classrooms, where every child deserves peace to learn.

Through the Cyber Security Awareness Campaign and the International Day to Protect Education from Attack, our students learned that awareness is more than knowing — it's caring, it's acting, it's choosing to be responsible, every single day.

Celebrating Roots - Hindi Diwas Celebrations

Our celebrations for Hindi Diwas filled Loyola with language, laughter, and learning. From colouring and handwriting contests to poster-making, role-plays, and quick-fire rounds, each activity, each competition reminded us that languages are a bridge to stories, emotions, and identity.

Our students also dazzled the Hindi Diwas Celebrations at ICC and Savitribai Phule University. Our students sang, danced and performed with pride. Our Head of the Hindi Department, Ms Sailaja Mantha was also felicitated by the ICC for her contributions in the field!

Kindergarten

Little Champions - Kindergarten Sports Day

There's nothing quite like the joy of little feet running with all their might and tiny faces lighting up in victory. Kindergarten Sports Day was a morning filled with laughter, cheers, and colour as our youngest learners took to the field with boundless energy. From playful relays to fun themed races, every event celebrated teamwork, spirit, and smiles. The highlight of the day? When parents joined in! Watching them team up with their little ones – running, laughing, and cheering together, made it a day to remember for every heart present.
