A Season of Milestones and Momentum

KG Graduation

At Oasis Campus, our Kindergarteners walked into their graduation ceremony with bright eyes and determined little steps, hand in hand with the teachers who guided them through their first school year. Held in thoughtfully planned sessions, the celebration gave every child their moment on stage, in front of family, under warm applause.

As scrolls were received and tiny voices shared songs and "Words from a Little Heart," the message was simple: they are ready. Ready for Grade 1, ready for bigger classrooms, ready for new questions, carrying with them confidence built gently, day by day.

Annual Athletics Meet

At Al Arabi Stadium, the Loyola flag rose and so did the noise. Houses called out to their runners, spikes hit the track, and months of practice unfolded race by race. The torch relay and march past set the tone, but once the whistle blew, it was all about focus, timing, and that final burst toward the finish line.

Sprints, relays, jumps, and throws kept the scoreboard shifting through the day as more than 1200 students from Oasis and Al Nasr competed with grit and house loyalty. Medals were earned, not handed out. Lifting the Best House trophy marked the close of a day built on effort, discipline, and collective pride.

Inter Campus Competitions

When students from Oasis and Al Nasr Campuses come together, it is shared learning that happens through competitions. Our Inter-Campus platforms create opportunities for students to observe one another, raise their standards, and grow through healthy comparison.

Storytelling Competition

Through expressive narration, voice modulation, and stage presence, students demonstrated that communication at Loyola is intentionally nurtured, building clarity of thought and confidence in expression.

Qur'an Recitation Competition

With focus on Tajweed, pronunciation, and reverence, the competition reflected Loyola's commitment to nurturing faith, discipline, and strong moral grounding alongside academics.

Republic Day Celebration - Honouring the Spirit of the Constitution

Republic Day marks the day India chose to be governed by its own Constitution, committing to justice, equality, and democratic values. With the unfurling of the National Flag, followed by a special assembly and themed activities across grades, students engaged with the significance of the day, understanding that freedom carries responsibility.

Celebrations!

The Harvest Festival was marked through a special assembly led by the Telugu and Tamil departments, where students reflected on why this time of year is celebrated – to honour nature, respect labour, and express gratitude. Through traditional performances and storytelling, the celebration became a reminder that culture is not observed from a distance at Loyola; it is experienced, understood, and carried forward.

Fun Trips

At Loyola, holistic education includes shared laughter, strengthened friendships, and moments that build camaraderie, because growing up well means learning, connecting, and enjoying the journey together. From KG to Grade 2 exploring the Jungle Zone to Grades 3 and above building teamwork at Angry Birds World, each trip created something special for the kids

The Learning Ecosystem

Turning Waste into Wisdom

Through creative reuse of everyday materials, our students discovered that sustainability begins with awareness and action. Activities like Best Out of Waste nurture responsibility, innovation, and respect for the world around us.

International Day of Education

International Day of Education invited students to reflect on what learning truly means and how it shapes who they aspire to become. By connecting dreams with purpose, we continue to build learners who grow with knowledge and values.

Talkathon

At Al Nasr Campus, Talkathon gave students from Grades 3 to 6 the courage to think on their feet and speak with clarity, confidence, and conviction. Platforms like these strengthen communication, critical thinking, and the self-belief that future-ready learners need.

Subject Enrichment Activities

Harnessing the Power of the Sun! - Science Activity

Grade 6 students explored solar energy through research, model-making, and discussions on sustainability, linking classroom concepts to real-world innovation and environmental responsibility.

English Role Play Activity

From scripted performances to self-written dialogues, students brought stories to life through expression and collaboration, strengthening creativity, empathy, and confident communication.

Classroom Turned into Store - Maths & Business

When classrooms transformed into mini marketplaces, students applied mathematical concepts through buying, selling, and calculating, turning theory into practical understanding.

Beyond the Campus

This season, our students stepped into larger spaces engaging with culture, heritage, environment, sport, and reflection. These experiences widened their perspective and deepened their understanding of the world they are growing into.

CBSE Gulf Sahodaya Principals' Conference

As an organising member of the 38th CBSE Gulf Sahodaya Conference in Kochi, Loyola participated in key discussions on curriculum evolution, the upcoming CBSE Global Curriculum, and purposeful technology integration – reinforcing our commitment to collaborative leadership and future-ready schooling.

Sprouts Scouts Program - Heenat Salma Farm

A day at Heenat Salma Farm allowed students to learn hands-on about soil, sustainability, and interdependence, strengthening environmental awareness and responsibility through lived experience.

Walk through the Sports City

In the spirit of Qatar National Sports Day, a nationwide initiative that promotes fitness and active living across the country, our Scouts and Guides participated in the Run for Fun Walk at Sports City
